(U//FOUO) "OCCUPY THE HIGHWAY"

March from NY to DC - The purpose of the walk by the group is to support other "occupy" city groups (Baltimore and DC), Bush tax cuts, and Supercommittee's goal of cutting $1.2 trillion dollars from the budget. The group left, on foot, from New York on Wednesday, November 9, 2011 and expects to arrive at DC (to support the Occupy DC protestors) on 11/23/11.

Their current plan is as follows:
• 11/17/11: Newark, DE to Rising Sun, MD
• 11/18/11: Rising Sun, MD to Bel Air, MD
• 11/19/11: Bel Air, MD to Occupy Baltimore
• 11/20/11: Day Off at Baltimore
• 11/21/11: Occupy Baltimore to Laurel, MD
• 11/22/11: Laurel, MD to Occupy DC
• 11/23/11: Occupy DC to The White House for Super Committee

March from Richmond to DC - Social media is reporting that a march is planned by individuals involved in the Occupy Richmond in the next week. The march is being called "Occupy the Highway" and no specific number of participants has been found but they could be around 40 starting the march with their numbers growing as they get closer to DC with anywhere from 500 to 1000 people at this point.

Their current plan is as follows:
• 11/18/11: cover 18.5 miles from Richmond to Hanover
• 11/17/11: to cover 19.9 miles, Hanover to Bowling Green
• 11/18/11: to cover 20 miles, Bowling Green to Fredericksburg
• 11/19/11: there will be a rally at 100 hours in Fredericksburg and then 13.2 miles, Fredericksburg to Aquia Pines
• 11/20/11: to cover 15.7 miles, Aquia Pines to Woodbridge
• 11/21/11: to cover the 18.8 miles, Woodbridge to Alexandria
• 11/22/11: there will be a rally in Market Square at 12 noon and then cover the 8.0 miles from Alexandria to Occupy DC

While these individuals have a right to protest under the First Amendment, their presence during the march north could generate safety issues which frequently occur between pedestrian and motor vehicle traffic.

October 2011 will mark the start of the 11th year of the invasion of Afghanistan and the onset of the 2012 US federal budget, which provides unlimited funds for war and corporate welfare, yet withholds essential funds for services that meet human needs.

Starting on October 6, 2011, thousands of concerned Americans will assemble in Freedom Plaza, in Washington DC to take control of our country and our lives. We will occupy the plaza and hold a People's Assembly where we come up with just and sustainable solutions to the crises we face and demand that these solutions be presented and that the people's needs be addressed. We will plan and engage in creative acts of civil resistance and demand that our inherent rights and freedoms be protected, and that our children have a chance to live in peace, to breathe clean air, and to grow edible natural food.

Will you stand with us and denounce the systems and institutions that support endless war and unrestrained corporate greed?

Together we can create the future we envision: peace, justice and equality.

A Call to Action - Oct. 6, 2011 and onward

October 2011 is the 10th anniversary of the invasion of Afghanistan and the beginning of the 2012 federal austerity budget. It is time to light the spark that sets off a true democratic, nonviolent transition to a world in which people are freed to create just and sustainable solutions.

We call on people of conscience and courage—all who seek peace, economic justice, human rights and a healthy environment—to join together in Washington, D.C., beginning on Oct. 6, 2011, in nonviolent resistance similar to the Arab Spring and the Midwest awakening.

A concert, rally and protest will kick off a powerful and sustained nonviolent resistance to the corporate criminals that dominate our government.

Forty-seven years ago, Mario Savio, an activist student at Berkeley, said, "There's a time when the operation of the machine becomes so odious—that makes you so sick at heart—that you can't take part. You can't even passively take part. And you've got to put your bodies upon the gears and upon the wheels, upon the levers, upon all the apparatus, and you've got to make it stop. And you've got to indicate to the people who run it, to the people who own it, that unless you're free, the machine will be prevented from working at all."

Those words have an even greater urgency today. We face ongoing wars and massive socio-economic and environmental destruction perpetrated by a corporate empire which is oppressing, occupying and exploiting the world. We are on a fast track to making the planet unlivable while the middle class and poor people of our country are undergoing the most wrenching and profound economic crisis in 80 years.

"Stop the Machine! Create a New World!" is a clarion call for all who are deeply concerned with injustice, militarism and environmental destruction to join in ending concentrated corporate power and taking direct control of a real participatory democracy. We will encourage a culture of resistance—using music, art, theater and direct nonviolent action—to take control of our country and our lives. It is about courageously resisting and stopping the corporate state from destroying not only our inherent rights and freedoms, but also our children's chance to live, breathe clean air, drink pure water, grow edible natural food and live in peace.

As Mother Jones said, "Someday the workers will take possession of your city hall, and when we do, no child will be sacrificed on the altar of profit!"
We are the ones who can create a new and just world. Our issues are connected. We are connected. Join us in Washington, D.C., on Oct. 6, 2011, to Stop the Machine.

UPCOMING "OCTOBER 6" AND "OCCUPY DC" DEMONSTRATIONS

Beginning on September 17, 2011 the movement "U.S. Day of Rage" began, most notably as a series of demonstrations in New York City known as "Occupy Wall Street". The protests took inspiration from the "Arab Spring" movement. Since this movement began, several internet sites have posted a call to action for demonstrations in solidarity with the "Occupy Wall Street" // "Occupy Together" movements across the country. In Washington DC, the main organizing site, http://october2011.org/, has posted a call to action for individuals committed to peace and social, economic and environmental justice, to join together in Washington, D.C., beginning on Thursday October 6, 2011, "in nonviolent resistance similar to the Arab Spring and the Midwest awakening". This movement is being endorsed by approximately 150 different organizations, to include "ANSWER" "Code Pink", and "United for Peace and Justice".

Organizers from "October 2011" have applied for NPS permits for demonstrations in Freedom Plaza for 10/6 - 10/9 and Lafayette Park for 10/8-10/9. Freedom Plaza will serve as the main stage for gatherings, concerts and rallies for up to 1,000 participants, while organizers advise that Lafayette Park will be an overflow spot for "break-out sessions" (described as teaching classes or small reading gatherings) of less than 100 participants in each of the quadrants.

In addition to the main body of the demonstration scheduled to begin on October 6th, several groups will conduct their own sponsored events:

On Saturday, October 1, 2011, activists with "#OccupyDC" (http://occupydc.org/) began their demonstration in solidarity with the "Occupy Wall Street" // "Occupy Together" movements. According to various reports, about 100 participants were on hand at various times throughout the day Saturday. Members participating in this event have conducted a few small marches and independent demonstrations to include a 10 person march by the White House on Sunday and a group of 6 demonstrators gathered at the Bank of America at 17th and K streets. Both events concluded without incident. According to this groups website there has been talk about marching "on K St rather than to White House". (NFI)

Non Responsive:

While organizers from "October 2011" advise that there are no plans for "C.D.", various OS sites mention "nonviolent resistance" and the group’s calendar shows that they are conducting "nonviolence training" on multiple occasions prior to and during the events. In the FAQ section people are encouraged to attend even if they are not ready to risk arrest. It is unknown what type of "nonviolent resistance" members may participate in. Another sponsoring resource page, http://usdayofrage.org/resources.html offers tips for activists in regards to dealing with law enforcement and resources for legal advice.

Below are some implications to be mindful of in relation to our protective mission for the duration of these planned events:

- Non Responsive

- While there is no known action directed specifically at the White House complex, the proximity of the parks being used and the pathway between these parks and other finical institutions (Bank of America, 17th and Pennsylvania) and the K street corridor could bring marches in proximity to the White House. Due to the proximity of the Treasury to the demonstration sites/parks, increased demonstration activity may be likely.

- October 7th, 2011 marks the tenth anniversary of the War in Afghanistan. This milestone may bring an increase of antiwar demonstrators.

Officers are reminded that they should continue to be diligent in identifying demonstration activity that may pose a risk to the USSS protective mission and its facilities and in the absence of specific fact or observabie actions, which would indicate a demonstration may pose a risk to a USSS protectee, protected facility, foreign mission or to public safety, demonstrators are to be treated as members of the general public.

Approximately 150 people gathered in Freedom Plaza at this time.
Over 100 people are currently gathered at Freedom Plaza already.

I assume that this is the "Occupy DC" and "Day of rage" folks.

Copy that. Right now, they just have a bunch of signs and also 3 model drones approx 3 to 4 feet long.

and monitoring.

HPD and USCG both brought up the Occupy Honolulu (spinoff of the Occupy Wall Street movement) during the SVTC today. The group appears to be small and in the early stages of development. Local news sources indicate the group has talked about protesting APEC; however, I haven't seen anything concerning concrete plans. Local groups, including anti-APEC activists such as World Can't Wait, attended an Occupy Honolulu meeting recently which may be a precursor to joint protests and/or combining their resources.

It looks like some people may be planning to visit several Bank of America locations, the World Bank and the Treasury tomorrow (http://map.15october.net/reports/view/1176). One post (http://map.15october.net/reports/view/363) shows marches may be planned for 0800, 0900 and 1700 hours tomorrow.

Excellent, thanks for your help and prompt response!...thanks for keeping me updated...

Good morning. I have heard that tomorrow is the "International Day of Action" for the occupy movements (http://15october.net/), but I don't have any more info.

As I get more I will pass it along.

Regards,

Quick question: Do you have any info on demonstrations occurring at the National Mall and McPherson Square this weekend? Thanks a ton.

Good morning,
Just wanted to check and see if there was anything passed to you regarding the demonstrations at the National Mall and McPherson Square for this weekend. Protestors are saying Saturday is international Day of Action and they've talked about marching on banks from McPherson before meeting people at the Mall.

Anything worth giving the PIO a heads up on?

Thanks,

Senior Protective Intelligence Research Specialist
United States Secret Service
Domestic Terrorism Desk
Thanks for the information!

Below you will find a bit more information on the activities being held this weekend. I have reviewed both websites in the prior e-mail and nothing stood out to me that made me feel like there should be immediate notification to ID...but I guess it never hurts passing the info along just as an fyi.

Also, below is some additional info that was just sent over:

It looks like some people may be planning to visit several Bank of America locations, the World Bank and the Treasury tomorrow (http://map.15october.net/reports/view/1176) and (http://map.15october.net/reports/view/363).

The first site indicates that people will meet in Freedom Plaza for a march to multiple Bank of Americas in Washington, DC at 8:00 am on Saturday morning. We will foreclose on the banks and share information about ways that bank customers can move their money to credit unions instead. This will be followed by a march to the World Bank and Treasury and will conclude with a dance party. The latter site indicates people will meet at McPherson Square at 12PM & 6PM and proceed to march at 9AM & 5PM.

Please let me know if I can be of any further assistance. Thanks.
Quick question: Do you have any info on demonstrations occurring at the National Mall and McPherson Square this weekend? Thanks a ton.

Good morning,

Just wanted to check and see if there was anything passed to you regarding the demonstrations at the National Mall and McPherson Square for this weekend. Protestors are saying Saturday is International Day of Action and they've talked about marching on banks from McPherson before meeting people at the Mall.

Anything worth giving the PIOC a heads up on?

Thanks,

On Saturday, protesters responded to city offers of a campsite and made plans for President Barack Obama's visit to the city.

Obama plans to speak about job policy at the airport Monday, and protesters said they wanted to be there. Signs will not be allowed, but some suggested the group instead wear T-shirts with messages. Joe Banks, 73, who goes by "Virato," said protesters should wear something over the shirt, "then take it off and start chanting."

"Begin chanting so loud they can hear you downtown," Banks said.

Hello Everyone,

Hope this email finds you all well.

I saw that this past Saturday Occupy took their message and demonstration activities to Honolulu.

They demonstrated along Kalakaua Avenue passing several hotels and continued towards the Honolulu Zoo.

They stopped and demonstrated in front of the Trump International Hotel and Hyatt Regency as well, if I am not mistaken.

If you have any information or have noted anything, let me know.

All my best,

Subject: Occupy DC group may be moving to a protest
Based on the Occupy DC website, the group is en route to Union Station to conduct a “Flash mob” disturbance at a $1,000/plate fund raiser hosted by Wal-Mart and Northrop Grumman CEOs.

This is for situational awareness only.

PID is following rumors that Occupy DC is planning on conducting a Flash Mob “somewhere in DC” at 1730 hours. There is no further information, at this time. If anything is developed further it will be disseminated as soon as possible.
