

UNITED STATES SECRET SERVICE and its partnership with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children

- Since the passage of the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, the Secret Service has provided forensic and technical support to NCMEC.
- In 2003, a revision to Title 18 USC 3056 authorized the Secret Service to provide investigative assistance in missing and exploited children cases when requested.
- The Forensic Services Division in the Office of Investigations manages the USSS/NCMEC liaison programs.

Childhood Smart Program

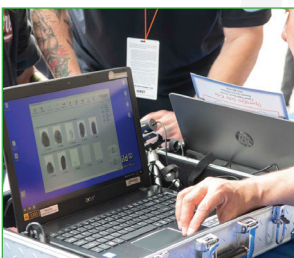

- The Childhood Smart Program provides age-appropriate presentations to children K-12, parents and school administrators.
- Presentations focus on internet and personal safety as well as other topics such as social media etiquette and cyber bullying.
- Ambassador Program - Secret Service employees are specially training by the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children to provide Childhood Smart Program presentations to schools and other organizations.

Operation Safe Kids

- Operation Safe Kids promotes the safety of children by providing parents with a document containing biographical data, a current photograph and digitized inkless fingerprints.
- With parental consent, children are photographed and fingerprinted. This information is then printed and given back to the parent. No data is saved by the Secret Service.

How to Request Outreach Events

To request a Childhood Smart Program presentation or Operation Safe Kids event for your school or other organization:

Contact your local United States Secret Service Field Office, or Contact the USSS Program Manager at FSDNCMEC@USSS.DHS.GOV

To learn more about the Secret Service's partnership with NCMEC: <https://www.secretservice.gov/NCMECpartnership>

To learn more about the NCMEC Education Programs: <https://www.missingkids.org/education>

Scan the QR code in the photo above with your phone, and you'll see photos of missing children in a 50-mile radius of where you are right now.